

DISCLAIMER: This measure guide is intended to help you to determine the size of your door unit. Abby Iron Doors are not responsible for any dimensions. We recommend that your door installer verify all dimensions. Call us for further assistance.

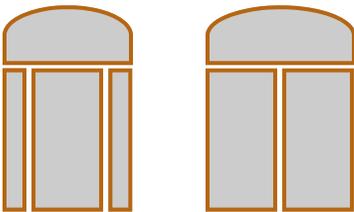

If the top of the door unit is flat as shown below, use Flat Top measuring guide

If you the top of the door is arch or round as shown below, use Arch and Round Top measuring guide

If the top of your doors is elliptical (as shown below) or other unique shape, you may use Arch and Round Top measuring guide, but you may need to supplement with a template:

DISCLAIMER: This measure guide is intended to help you to determine the size of your door unit. Abby Iron Doors are not responsible for any dimensions. We recommend that your door installer verify all dimensions. Call us for further assistance.

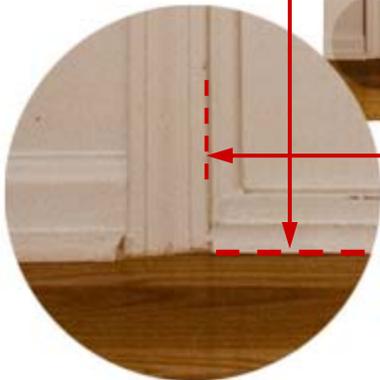

1

1

Make sure the measuring tape is plumb!
Take a measurement from the finished floor to inner edge of the trim on the top of the door.

Height: ____ "

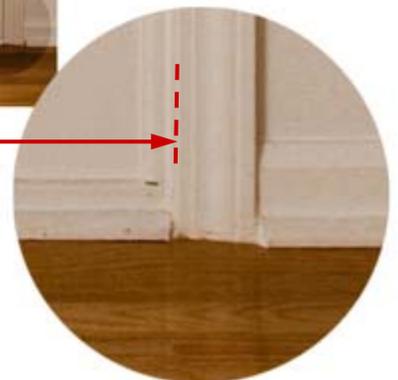

2

2

Make sure the measuring tape is parallel to the floor!
Take a measurement from the inner edge of the left trim to the inner edge of the right trim.

Width: ____ "

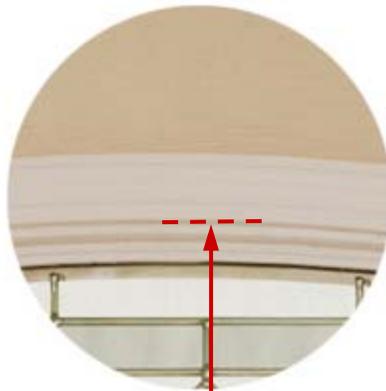

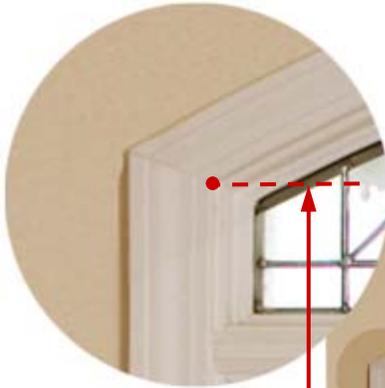

3

IMPORTANT!

Please inform your sales rep that you are providing the dimensions based from this measuring guide and not from your contractor or your own measurement.

Arch or Round Top

- 1 Make sure the measuring tape is plumb!
From the floor to where the arch starts, take a measurement from the finished floor to inner edge of the trim on the top of the door.

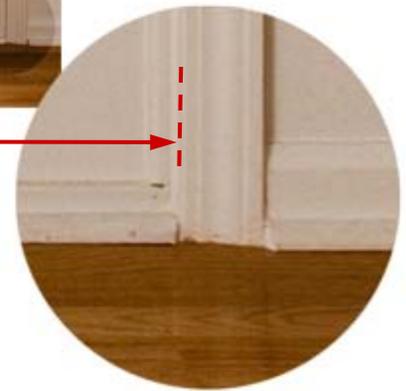

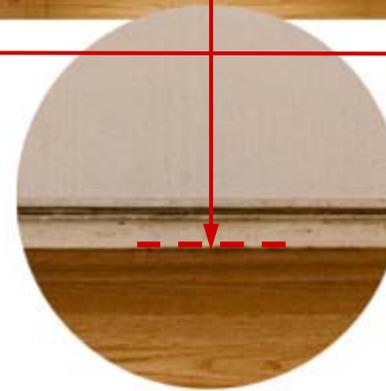

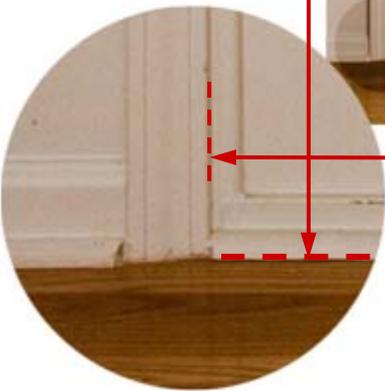

Arch starts at: ____ "

- 2 Make sure the measuring tape is plumb!
From the floor to the highest point of the door, take a measurement from the finished floor to inner edge of the trim on the top of the door.

Height: ____ "

- 3 Make sure the measuring tape is parallel to the floor!
Take a measurement from the inner edge of the left trim to the inner edge of the right trim.

Width: ____ "

4 IMPORTANT!

Please inform your sales rep that you are providing the dimensions based from this measuring guide and not from your contractor or your own measurement.